We extend a special thank you to Brides by Demetrios for donation of the gown.

In celebration of our Fifth Anniversary, we wanted to present an extra-special cover for our readers.

We invited a group of wonderful wedding professionals to help us create the spectacular photograph that graces this cover. Although the traditional fifth anniversary is celebrated with a gift of wood, we know our readers would prefer flowers!

It all started with a vision of wedding day beauty that was executed beyond our fondest dreams. Inglis Florist created this take-your-breath-away floral shawl fashioned entirely of white orchids. While you might not actually wear your wedding day flowers, we feel this concept captures every bride's dream—heaven on earth.
